Introduction

The African Supply Chain Forum (ASCF) 2026 – Second Edition is a premier gathering of procurement and supply chain professionals, industry leaders, policymakers, and innovators committed to shaping the future of supply chains in Africa.

As global trade dynamics shift, technology accelerates transformation, and risk becomes more complex, African organisations must rethink how they source, move, manage, and protect value across their supply chains. This forum brings together cutting-edge insights, global best practices, regional realities, and practical solutions tailored to Africa’s operating environment.

ASCF 2026 will focus on resilient, digital, sustainable, and intelligent supply chains, equipping both organisations and professionals with the knowledge needed to compete effectively in local and global markets.

This is not just a conference — it is a strategic platform for learning, collaboration, innovation, and leadership in procurement and supply chain management.
